PROPOSALS FOR SETTLEMENT TAKEN UP; ACCEPTANCE FORECAST

In Washington Congress is Disposed to Follow Most of the Suggestions Made by President Harding in Address on Rail and Coal Strikes

Resumption of Bituminous Mining on a National Scale Seems Probable, Following the Agreement Reached Several Days Ago in Cleveland

By United Press

The strike clouds which have darkened the nation's horizon, seemed to be clearing away today.

In New York, an end of the shopmen's walkout was in sight. Proposals for settlement drawn up at the joint conferences of executives and union chiefs were under consideration by the strikers. Next week they will be taken up by the railroads. Acceptance by both sides is forecast.

In Washington, congress is disposed to follow most of the suggestions made by President Harding in his address on the rail and coal strikes. Congress is expected to refuse to sanction federal control of coal, however.

In Philadelphia the operators in the anthracite peace conference today were ready to submit to the miners proposals that the wage controversy be put up to the anthracite conciliation commission for settlement.

Resumption of bituminous mining on a national scale was amended following the agreement reached several days ago at Cleveland.

Charges Locomotives Not Inspected Thoroughly

Cleveland, Aug. 19.—Complete collapse of the head locomotive boilers inspection department in making the proper inspections of defective engines resulting from the shopmen's strike, was charged today by Timothy Shea, acting president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Shea declared that the force of 50 boiler inspectors provided for by law is not only wholly inadequate, but is not making thorough inspection of locomotives, which would endanger the lives of engineers and firemen.

Congress Opposed to Government Coal Agency

Washington, Aug. 19.—Congress today was disposed to deny President Harding's request in his strike message for a government coal agency to buy, sell and distribute coal in interstate commerce.

Powerful interests that have always opposed any step which appeared likely to be the forerunner of government control and operation, clearly indicated that the president's suggestion would be fought.

Congress, according to a careful survey, will approve the other recommendations of the president. These include a coal commission to make a complete investigation of the industry in the hope of finding a permanent solution for the recurring mine strikes and legislation giving the federal government the right to step in and punish those responsible for such outbreaks as the recent Herrin massacre, by authorizing federal courts to protect the treaty rights of aliens. Two Mexicans were said to have been killed at Herrin.

"The coal agency," as Mr. Harding called it, would have much greater power than the coal commission. The latter would be empowered only to investigate and gather facts about the coal industry as a basis for legislation or for the fixing of a fair basis of wages, but the "agency" it was pointed out, would put the government actually into the coal business. Government men would be employed to buy and sell coal. In fact, a gigantic push to control prices would be created.

Members of the farm bloc on both sides, and in fact, all except a few senators and representatives whose districts might expect benefit, expressed disapproval of the plan.

No Agreement Reached

Philadelphia, Aug. 19.—The joint conference of anthracite operators and union officials ended today's session without reaching an agreement.

The next session will be held Monday at 9 o'clock.

Modified Plan of Seniority

Washington, Aug. 19.—A modified plan for seniority restoration to striking shopmen is before the representatives of the railroads and the big four brotherhoods who have been holding conferences in New York to settle the rail strike, according to unofficial advice to administration leaders here. The plan is said to call for preferential seniority to the men who refused to quit work with the strikers, following them on the seniority lists. The strike breakers would then be placed on the list.

According to information here, union leaders would favorably consider such a plan, although they might suggest a number of slight modifications.

West Virginia Peace Falls

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 19.—Peace negotiations between miners and operators of West Virginia failed today.

The conference adjourned at noon when the wage scale committee announced agreement on the check off and closed shop issues could not be reached.

Indiana Operators Sign

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 19.—President Hessler, of District 11, United Mine Workers, today announced that Indiana operators, representing 3,000,000 tons of coal production annually, have signed the Cleveland agreement in advance of the hearing between scale committees of operators and miners here Monday.

Prompt Action on "Legislative Proposals"

Washington, Aug. 19.—Prompt action on "some of the legislative proposals" made by President Harding to cope with the strike situation was promised in the house today by Representative Mondell, republican floor leader. He indicated that a bill providing for a coal investigating committee would be before the house by the middle of next week.

Mondell made no mention of legislation creating a federal agency to purchase huge amounts of coal in order to prevent profiteering, and opposition to such action continued in both houses throughout the day.

A full report on the negotiations in New York looking toward a settlement of the rail strike was given Mr. Harding by A. T. Thom, general counsel of the railway executives, but he declined to make any comment on the situation.

The president gave approval to Senator Borah's bill creating a commission to investigate the coal industry—one of the executive recommendations to congress yesterday.

WIND AND WEATHER FAVOR FIRE MENACED NORTH WOODS

FLAMES WERE CHECKED AS BREEZES DIED DOWN, GIVES RESPIRE TO FIGHTERS

FOREST RANGERS FAIL TO FIND ANY VICTIMS, FEW BUILDINGS WERE LOST

(By United Press)

Duluth, Aug. 19.—Wind and weather favored fire menaced north woods settlements today.

Flames were checked as breezes died down. Thousands of forest fire fighters have a respite from their smoky, choky dreary tasks.

The danger is far from past, however. Even a fair breeze from any direction but the present direction of the wind would start the flames leaping and surging through the dry forests and underbrush again. The wind this morning was a light generally northerly breeze—blowing backward over burned areas in most places.

There was little hope of a soaking rain such as would be needed to extinguish the flames. It was partly cloudy, but the only hope of rain was local thunder showers. The weather bureau predicted fair today, and probably Sunday.

Forest rangers following up the flames in the burned areas failed to find any victims that were reported lost. Buildings reported burned were found standing.

Fire fighters and troops are now being used to prepare against another outbreak of the forest terror. Plans are being made to stop any further outbreak before they become serious. The forests are unusually dry and until soaking rains come, increasing numbers of fires may be expected.

Wind Increasing Today

Duluth, Aug. 19.—With increasing wind today, the forest fires menace grew in Lake and St. Louis counties. Scores of fires are still burning, but only serious damage found on an automobile tour of three hundred miles, was the destruction of five shacks and road building equipment near Cotton on the Duluth-Evelevh concrete highway. The loss is about $30,000.

Adjutant General Rhinow ordered out the service company of the 125th Infantry Minneapolis with more than 100 men this morning. The units left Minneapolis before noon in big trucks with complete fire fighting equipment.

The forest service has increased its forces at Kelsey and in the central lake region to prepare for possible high winds which would fan the flames to fury. Everybody but the people within the fire zone is hysterical. As a result, greatly exaggerated reports of the damage have gone out. At each village residents had reports that the village beyond was in ruins. Investigation proved no villages have been burned, and diligent inquiry failed to produce word of any fatalities.

Dense smoke from smoldering fire mostly in the peat bogs, covered most of the areas. The roadway and railroads are all open, and except for stinging smoke in places, travelers do not find it difficult to get through the territory.

Settlers in the iron range country are hardened to the forest fire menace and take it calmly. Reaching Kelsey after passing through the heart of the burned section, the United Press correspondent inquired as to the destruction reported enroute.

"Quit your kidding," said a man calmly fishing in the river. "We have this every summer."

Minneapolis, Aug. 19.—Park board executive officers from almost every city in the United States meet here today at the annual convention of the American Institute of Park Executives. Sessions last three days.

EDITORS WILL ALL ADVERTISE OUR WONDERFUL LAKE REGION

Word has been received that Brainerd has been chosen for the next summer meeting of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, which has been in session this week at Itasca park.

Brainerd editors were unable to attend, but a telegram was sent through the Chamber of Commerce, inviting the newspaper men to enjoy Brainerd's hospitality and our summer playground next season.

The summer session of the association is more a recreation meeting than a business affair, and Brainerd should lay plans for a royal entertainment of the editors in 1923.

To insure thorough publicity, John A. Hoffbauer, chairman of the publicity committee of the Chamber suggested early in July at a Chamber meeting that $50 be appropriated for the best writup by newspaper men of the Brainerd convention in 1923, making the prizes $50 first, $15 second and $10 third.

A further suggestion has been made that "Breezy Point," owned by Capt. William Fawcett, assist Brainerd in the entertainment of the editors. Captain Fawcett is an old newspaper man who had experience on the Minneapolis Tribune and other metropolitan papers. He is also the genial editor of "The Whiz Bang" which has a circulation of several hundred thousand.

In the 1922 convention the editorial party of 300 was entertained at Park Rapids, Itasca Park, Bemidji and its "Birchmont Hotel."

At Brainerd in 1923 they can be entertained at Brainerd, "Breezy Point," at some of our bonanza farms, and various other points in our wonderful lake region. The convention is by far one of the most valuable ever gained by Brainerd because of the advertising possibilities which may be derived by showing the editors a good time.

(By United Press)

Washington, August 19.—Presidents of Nicaragua, Salvador and Honduras are meeting today on board the U. S. S. Tacoma off the coast of Salvador to thresh out matters affecting the mutual interests of the three countries. It was learned at the state department today.

Activities along the border of the three countries are understood to have brought about a tense situation and the three presidents signified their desire to meet and settle the differences. The United States accordingly placed the Tacoma at their disposal as a neutral meeting ground.

WOMAN MARSHAL SAID JOB TOO TOUGH

(By United Press)

Des. Laes, N. D., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Bertha Ward, first woman marshal in the United States, turned her billy club over to Daniel Olson, husky section hand today.

Mrs. Ward was elected marshal last November when Des Laes elected women to every important political office in the village.

BITTER TARIFF FIGHT ENDS AFTER 13 MONTHS

FORDNEY-McCUMBER BILL EXPECTED TO PASS SENATE BY FAIR MARGIN

IS ALMOST A COMPLETE REVISION OF MEASURE PASSED BY THE HOUSE

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 19.—The long and bitter fight in the senate over the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill ends today.

Nearly 13 months ago—July 21, 1921, to be exact—the house passed the measure and sent it to the senate. Four months ago today, the senate began to consider it, and since then it has been continuously before that house under terms of the special unanimous consent agreement adopted last Saturday, the Senate at 4 o'clock must start on the measure without further debate.

That the bill would be passed by a fair sized margin was considered by even the staunchest democrat opponents. Republican leaders declared that they would not lose more than three or four of their number in the most. On the other hand it was believed this margin might be offset by revolt of a like number of democrats who frequently have voted with republicans on the major schedules of the bill.

The bill is almost a complete revision of the measure passed by the house. In the majority of instances the duties have been increased over the rates adopted in the lower chamber. This is true of the basic commodities such as wool, sugar, cotton, steel and chemicals, democrats said.

New features were inserted by the senate. Foremost was to grant the executive broad powers to change rates if after investigation by the tariff commission he advises that the differences in the cost of production here and abroad warrant a change.

Another was the establishment of a free state zone at the large ports of entry in the United States where raw material can be manufactured and shipped out without payment of customs. This does away with the bonded warehouses system.

The bill would be sent to conference immediately. With 2,807 amendments to iron out, the conferees are not expected to report back for some time.

12 MILE LIMIT MAY BE FIXED

IN WHICH VESSELS CAN BE SEIZED FOR LIQUOR

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 19.—Negotiations are under way between the United States and Great Britain to extend to twelve miles the limit in which vessels can be seized for liquor. Senator Sterling of South Dakota told the Senate today.

Sterling, who recently introduced an amendment to the tariff bill which would extend the limit to twelve miles, today said he would not press the amendment pending the negotiations which are being carried on by Secretary of State Hughes.

DR. EKLUND KILLED BY DULUTH MANIAC

Duluth, Aug. 19.—Dr. John J. Eklund, noted physician and prominent in state and national politics, was murdered in his office at noon today.

His assailant, John Magnuson, shot and killed himself as Dr. John J. Eklund Jr., son of the slain man, leaped to avenge his father's death. No motive for the slaying is known. Police believe Magnuson was a victim of insanity. He had been under treatment by Dr. Eklund.

REAL BEER ON TAP IN JOHNSTOWN, PA. ALL 'MOON' BARRED

MAYOR'S MANIFESTO SAID THE WATER WAS IN DANGEROUS CONDITION

ORDERS REAL BEER AND ALE TO TAKE PLACE OF CITY WATER

(By United Press)

The fare from Brainerd to Johnstown, Pa., said the Northern Pacific ticket agent here, is $38.87.

However, if there are a lot who want to go to Johnstown, Pa., maybe a round trip of a fare and a half can be secured.

Some people, however, may not want a round trip and are undecided as to when they want to get back.

Johnstown became famous years ago when its dam broke and let tons of water down and drowned a lot of people.

Today Johnstown is in danger of being inundated by a wave of beer.

It is reported Pennsylvania towns are all getting busy and examining city water. Worms and bugs are at a premium.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 19.—The good old days are back in Johnstown today.

Real beer—ice cold alcoholic and frothy—was sold in saloons and hotels at 10c a glass under orders of Mayor Joseph Cauffill, who declared the city water was unfit to drink.

Believing the mayor's order too good to last long, hundreds of happy natives rushed to the bars before breakfast to quench a sudden thirst.

Many workmen after having a drink for breakfast, declared a holiday and made the rounds as in the days of yore.

"Here's ho" echoes from saloons which were filled to the swinging doors. Breweries upon receipt of the mayor's orders that they save the health of the community are now putting their brewing making machinery into action.

Sale of moonshine liquor was barred.

Overnight Johnstown became probably the wettest city in the country. State and Federal prohibition officials have not yet announced their stand on the mayor's constitution defying procedure.

The mayor's action was decided upon when he turned on the faucet in his home and picked several worms and bugs from the water. His honor issued the following manifesto:

"Owing to the dangerous condition of water supply of Johnstown, every person who complies with the law, can sell real beer—not near beer—but real beer and ale.

"As long as they don't sell moonshine or any other adulterated poison, they won't be molested by me.

"The hotel men have agreed to give their assistance in running down all the bootleggers and moonshiners in the district.

"I don't see how federal authorities can interfere with the breweries in this district if they try to give the public real beer when our water supply is in such bad condition.

Intervention May Come

Washington, Aug. 19.—Federal prohibition agents will intervene and prevent the sale and manufacture of real beer at Johnstown, Pa., despite Mayor Cauffill's edict that the old time frothy beverage may be sold. Assistant Federal Prohibition Commissioner Jones told the United Press today.

The sale of real beer, whether Johnstown water is bad or not, is a violation of the Volstead act, and will not be countenanced Jones said.

"I don't see how federal authorities can interfere with the breweries in this district if they try to give the public real beer when our water supply is in such bad condition.

Intervention May Come

Washington, Aug. 19.—Federal prohibition agents will intervene and prevent the sale and manufacture of real beer at Johnstown, Pa., despite Mayor Cauffiel's edict that the old time frothy beverage may be sold. Assistant Federal Prohibition Commissioner Jones told the United Press today.

The sale of real beer, whether Johnstown water is bad or not, is a violation of the Volstead act, and will not be countenanced Jones said.

Teaching Children to Save

The best way to get a child started is to have him save for something definite, a bicycle, a pair of skates, or some other worthwhile plaything. Have him save more than enough, so he can leave a few dollars in the bank.

As the children grow older they will save for more expensive things that they will need in the business of growing up.

BUILD NOW--CONDITIONS FAVOR IT

The best building weather possible can be expected in the next few months, and other conditions as well favor those who need new homes, barns, granaries, corn cribs or other improvements. Next year we look for a much delayed building boom that must supply a lack of homes throughout the country and this means shortage of material and probably higher prices. Build now and avoid any such inconveniences and loss. Right now material and labor are plentiful and capital is freer than for a long time. Take advantage of these conditions. We have plans for the kind of a building you want.

Teaching Children to Save

The best way to get a child started is to have him save for something definite, a bicycle, a pair of skates, or some other worthwhile plaything. Have him save more than enough, so he can leave a few dollars in the bank.

As the children grow older they will save for more expensive things that they will need in the business of growing up.

The best building weather possible can be expected in the next few months, and other conditions as well favor those who need new homes, barns, granaries, corn cribs or other improvements. Next year we look for a much delayed building boom that must supply a lack of homes throughout the country and this means shortage of material and probably higher prices. Build now and avoid any such inconveniences and loss. Right now material and labor are plentiful and capital is freer than for a long time. Take advantage of these conditions. We have plans for the kind of a building you want.

WHITE LOTS VAL- UABLE TO COUNTY

Brainerd Should Have an Agricultural Fair Located Permanently in the City

ROOM FOR HALF-MILE TRACK

Plenty of Space in Interior for Baseball Park and Various Fair Buildings

W. D. McKay, secretary of the Water and Light board, is very enthusiastic over the possibilities of the A. A. White lots lying just south of the court house.

There are 100 lots in the parcel of land which Mr. White offered to the county for park purposes. Later he withdrew his offer, because the county commissioners thought the proposition concerned the city more directly than it did the county.

Mr. McKay differs with them in this opinion, and points out the wonderful advantages that are made possible through the topography of the land, and states that these advantages should be placed at the disposal of the entire county.

A very good panorama of the parcel can be gained from any of the south windows of the court house. It will be seen that these lots, with perhaps a few additional ones, form a perfect natural stadium, something that would be a real asset both to the county and the city. Other cities are spending thousands of dollars to erect artificial surroundings for stadiums, but here in Brainerd, close to the main part of the city, we are blessed with the natural resources for plans as elaborate as we might care to make them.

Mr. McKay points out that Brainerd needs and should have an agricultural fair permanently located in the city. The county fair was once situated here, but because it descended into a gambling proposition it was allowed to die, and Pequot revived it, placing the permanent grounds in that town.

An ideal fair grounds could be made of the White lots in connection with the huge stadium. There is ample room for a half mile race track around the outer edge of the bowl, with plenty of space in the interior for a baseball park and fair buildings. In fact, one viewing the location from the windows of the court house, does not need to use much imagination to picture nearly any kind of a fair or amusement grounds that might be built there. The possibilities are unlimited.

The thing that appeals to the observer is the fact that the location is an ideal one. It is close to the business district, yet segregated sufficiently for the purpose to which it would be put. City water can easily be piped to the location, the electric lights are available from nearby lines, and a sewerage system installed, running into the river close at hand.

The possibilities are there awaiting development, and no doubt Mr. McKay is right when he says that this is a matter that should interest the entire county instead of the city alone. It might be a good plan to form a fair association for the purpose of pushing the proposition, for pushed it should be, and there is no time like the present.

Brainerd citizens should interest themselves in the project and give their opinions on the project.

"WHO'S WHO AMONG MINNESOTA WOMEN"

A book, "Who's Who Among Minnesota Women," is to be published by Mrs. W. T. Coe, of Minneapolis, former president of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mary Dillon Foster, newspaper writer of St. Paul, at 613 Hamm Building.

The book is to be a record of achievement of Minnesota women who are leaders in educational, civic and community enterprises and who have made records in war work, Americanization, patriotic and religious activity. It will also include memorials to women who pioneered for suffrage and have been leaders in various kinds of public work and who have died in recent years. The plan is to have about 300 portraits and biographies in the book, which will be printed in two colors in art paper and have flexible leather binding.

The book will be placed in every library in the state and with the State Historical Society as permanent record of what women have done for progress in Minnesota. It will be supervised by a board of editors to represent the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, Minnesota Federation of Fraternal Women, Minnesota W. C.

T. U., League of Women Voters and other state organizations. The plan of the publication is to be presented at various women's headquarters at the state fair and at the convention of the state federation of clubs in Bemidji Sept. 15.

Prominent women in every county will further the progress of the book. Nothing of the kind has ever been published in Minnesota. The book will be dedicated to the late Maria Sanford, professor emerita of the University of Minnesota, and will contain her "Apostrophe to the Flag." It will be ready for distribution in October.

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

Believed Every Attendance Record Will be Broken at Fair Sept. 2 to 9

Such unusual interest is being shown in the Minnesota State Fair, September 2 to 9 that every attendance record ever established by the world's greatest exposition is expected to be broken.

Good crops, a wonderful hard-surfaced highway system, an unprecedented round trip railroad rate of a fare and a third for fair week, and crowded departments on every side, will make a new record for attendance possible, in the opinion of fair officials.

The combined exhibit of all the state departments, showing visitors how the state's taxes are spent, will be an extraordinary feature of the educational program. This exhibit is to occupy more than 30,000 square feet of space in an entire building on Machinery Hill.

The very cream of all the livestock of America will be at the fair. The great cattle barn, known as the biggest structure of its kind in the world, will be crowded to overflowing with beef and dairy cattle. A gigantic machinery show, twice as large as the next biggest machinery show of 1922 in the world will be only one of a host of big educational features.

Sig Haugdahl, world's greatest auto racer, in his famous three-mile-minute car, and Lillian Boyer, an 18 year old Chicago school girl, who cuts all kinds of capers with an airplane, will furnish most of the thrills on the entertainment program. The four corners of the world have been searched for features.

HALL MUSIC HOUSE ADDS TO TRADE AREA

"The only man not getting business is the man who is lying down," says W. J. Hall of the Hall Music House. Which is another way of saying what E. H. Perry of the Perry Hardware states in these words: "There's plenty of business if you only go after it."

Mr. Hall is enlarging his business to take in quite a little out-of-town territory. He is agent for the Magna Vox, which increases sound so that a person's voice can easily be heard for several blocks. It is used by outdoor speakers, for advertising, and for increasing the tone of phonographs.

The Hall Music House has sold two of these instruments in Ayer, Iowa and one in Marshalltown, Iowa.

The portable Sonora phonograph is very popular with the tourists. They are especially adaptable for camping parties, picnics, lake homes, etc. Walter Bullock, aviator at Breezy Point has purchased one, and it is to be supposed that folks in that neighborhood will now be hearing "Music from the Skies." Miss Maggie Atherton has purchased a portable Sonora for her new lake home on Pelican.

Mr. Hall has the agency for the Meister pianos, and is featuring the school size in this make. It is about one-half the size of the regular upright piano, although the tone is of the same strength and its keyboard within half an octave of its big brother's. This style is small, easily moved about and requires little space. The music house has furnished two of these pianos to the range schools, one going to Cuyuna.

Mr. Hall's attitude on business is a very good one. Hard times would have its difficulties knocking at the doors of business houses, if every merchant took Mr. Hall's view, and really went after the trade to which he is entitled. One of the best mediums for reaching the public is advertising, and Mr. Hall is making good use of his space in the newspaper.

DODGE BROTHERS COMMERCIAL CAR

The car's long-established reputation for faithful, low-cost service has not influenced Dodge Brothers in their constant seeking after betterments.

A semi-floating rear-axle is now provided, embodying the latest ideas in rear axle design. The main housing is 75 per cent stronger. One large Timken bearing at the hub replaces two small bearings and gives 100 per cent greater carrying capacity. Larger ring gear and drive pinion make possible a new, tooth shape, giving quiet operation and 45 per cent increase in strength. Larger front and rear propeller shaft bearings more than double the drive thrust capacity.

Conservative changes in body lines have materially enhanced the attractiveness of the car's appearance.

A REFORMER SINS

WHEN one who has been active in reform movements goes wrong, as in the case of Mrs. Ivy Giberson, of Lakehurst, N. J., whose husband's murder has led to the discovery of hundreds of love letters from another man in her possession, the movements they have championed suffer as a result. "Such as she are the leaders in such activities," expresses the sentiment of many after reading of such falls. For in any movement having high ends people expect to find good characters. But while many people are better than their creeds, many others who profess high ideals fall far short of them. And it goes without saying that the higher the standard the more difficult it is of attainment.

One thing must be remembered when leaders in reform movements go wrong. Such movements offer an opportunity to such as lack mental unification, whose lives are out of tune, who have missed happiness. In fact many in such movements are merely seeking a means for the expression of their unhappy natures. They have missed the way of satisfaction and their disappointment leads them to attempt to correct the things they don't like. A life that is unified and therefore "consciously happy," to use an expression of William James, is less inclined to meddle with the affairs of others than a life that is without unification and happiness. A man or a woman whose life is unified and whose interests center in the home where they first belong is a good citizen and a good neighbor, but either internationalism or brotherhood that is not based on a passionate nationalism or a proper self-respect is dangerous.

"No virtue is safe that is not passionate," and a life that is not unified and happy in its relations in the home and society, by seeking expression through reform movements, therein finding vent for its disappointment by attempting to enforce its disorganized will upon others, is likely to prove unworthy of the standards of the movement through which it seeks expression.

In every reform movement there are cranks and criminals; and a "shrieking sisterhood both male and female," as the late Theodore Roosevelt characterized the unbalanced element in such organizations. But the movements themselves must be tested by their program and not by the persons who seek in them a means of expressing their turbulent natures.

ARTHUR GRIFFITH

THERE are times when the passing of a strong leader leaves a sense of unusual loss. This is especially true when the conditions are unsettled and strong leadership is in demand. On that January morning when the news of the passing of Theodore Roosevelt had been flashed over America, there was a strange feeling, even among those of the opposite political party, that he could ill be spared. The unsettled conditions resulting from the war needed just such strong leadership as he could have given and the loyal following which he could have inspired. And as Americans felt then so Irishmen felt when Arthur Griffith's leadership was taken from Ireland.

As one of the leaders in the demand for Ireland's freedom, he ably presented the case, and when it was evident that absolute independence could not be won, he accepted conditions which raised Ireland to the status of other satisfied and happy countries within the British Empire. Ireland can ill spare its able leader during this troublous period of its history.

LLOYD GEORGE may write his life story, or have it written for him. We hope he decides to do it himself, after reading Tully's attempt to tell the world how well he filled the president's chair. There are not many Boswells.

HAROLD MCCORMICK did not surprise the public by marrying Ganna Walska. His careful preparations, both legal and physical, presaged the event.

The Republicans in Utah have nominated Ernest Bamberger, a mining engineer, for the U. S. senate. We hope he's elected as the senate needs technically trained experts.

ANOTHER headline, "Marriage slump in New York laid to lack of spooning places." The married wonder how this can be so. They know that love finds a way.

AND yet another headline, "Sailor's head cool; he snares torpedo." But it takes a hot-headed youth to coolly perform such a feat.

GOOD news for the children! "Molasses is rich in iron and lime, as well as carbohydrates" (whatever that is). And, further, it sticks well.

HEADLINES announce that "Miners are ready to dig coal in anthracite area." We always suspected that digging coal was a miner's job.

WHY all this wind in August? But what would it be with snow flakes ahead of it?

THE wets may take new hope. A fresh supply has been put on tap, for water has been proved to be an intoxicant.

THE Democratic nominee for senator in Missouri may prove to be a broken Reed as party chiefs withdraw their support.

A NEWS dispatch says that Cork is in flames. How, then, will Dublin bottle its stout?

THE president has the strikes on his head, the tariff on his shoulders. Where, oh, where, will he find room for the bonus bill?

MA WON'T LEAVE PA

Fifty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wescott were married at Hillsboro, Mo., and have never been separated for a single night since then. They landed in Chicago recently with $2 and after paying their hotel bill for one night found themselves stranded. Several charitable organizations offered to provide them with homes, if they would go to separate institutions. This "Ma" Wescott refused. She is 65 and Mr. Wescott is 85, and she says "Pa" Wescott needs her at all times. Ma has secured a corner in the Chicago loop and is busy at her old trade of selling papers.

GILDA GRAY, FOLLIES SHIMMY EXPERT, SUIT

(By United Press)
Milwaukee, Aug. 19.—Gilda Gray, Follies shimmy expert of Broadway, known here as Mary Michaelis Gorecki, is not going to have such an easy time getting the custody of her nine-year-old son Martin, now in the custody of her former husband, John Gorecki, bartender in his father's saloon here.

Gorecki yesterday filed in circuit court an order for a hearing as to why the divorce proceedings instituted in 1915 by his wife should not be set aside. Gorecki plans to file a suit for divorce following dismissal of his wife's suit for want of prosecution on grounds of desertion. In his suit Gorecki declared he would ask for the custody of the son who he has raised since a baby.

FORMER PRIVATE OUTSTANDING CASE

John B. Butler, formerly private in the 16th Infantry, was an outstanding case of rehabilitation this week in District Ten, which comprises Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana. Butler received machine gun bullet wound in the upper part of his right arm, practically paralyzing his arm.

Mr. Butler's previous education was two years in high school and his pre-war vocation that of a clerk in a wholesale grocery at $22 per week.

After teaching him to readily use his left arm for all purposes the Veterans' Bureau gave him training in one of the best accountancy schools in the Northwest, together with placement training in three various corporations in the Twin Cities, enabling him to get real practical training on the job.

He is now employed by the U. S. Internal Revenue as Tax Auditor at a salary of $2,000 per year.

EARLY to bed, early to rise, stick to your business and advertise.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN

August 15 to 22

Prune out the old canes of raspberries and thin out currant and gooseberry bushes. Burn the thinnings to get rid of insects before next year.

Weeds going to seed now mean large crops of weeds next season. Better pull or cut all before they have a chance to scatter seed.

Save seeds of native plants that are good ornamentals. In most cases they may be sown as soon as ripe, in well prepared soil. Cover with leaf mold or soil with a good deal of humus.

Gladioli need water when the buds begin to form. Give them enough to go to the tips of the roots. Cultivate as soon as the soil is dry again.

Oriental poppies may be divided now and reset where they are to bloom, or in nursery rows.

You can not take all the plant food out of the soil by heavy cropping and expect crops to thrive. Return some food in the form of fertilizers or green manure.

Minnesota is getting some fine highways. They can still be improved by some ornamental planting—trees for shade and a few shrubs for color. We could very well remove all bill-boards from our highways except where they advertise farm products or give directions. Signs directing travelers to the nearest towns would make travel easier.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Two Shriners sojourning at "Cynosam" club house, headquarters of Masons from fourteen lakeless states, had a deal of an experience while fishing in Cull lake, as related by Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Both simultaneously hooked a large pike and in the excitement upset the boat, which was weighted down with a heavy "kicker" engine.

Clad in heavy clothes, it was the aim of each Shriner to kick them off. In their B. V. D's they made for a small island and roosted there 24 hours until rescued by a canoe next day.

In the meantime small boys, out fishing, spied a pair of old pants floating in the lake and like small boys, fished them up and examined them. The pants had been kept afloat by a corked bottle in the hip pocket, which contained high test gasoline and not what you first supposed. The pants also carried the card of one of the luckless Shriners and in a wallet was $80 in bills and change. It was all returned to the Shriner.

His partner, however, was not so lucky. His pants carried $300, but had no bottle to buoy them up and probably went down in the lake depths never to return.

Boy Scouts

Minot, Aug. 19.—D. R. Riley, Boy Scout executive of Minot district, returned today from eastern points where he has been studying boy scout work. He spent several weeks in Culver, Ind., Military academy and en route home spent two weeks at Itasca State Park in Minnesota where he took a course in scout leadership.

Can't Doctor stumps.

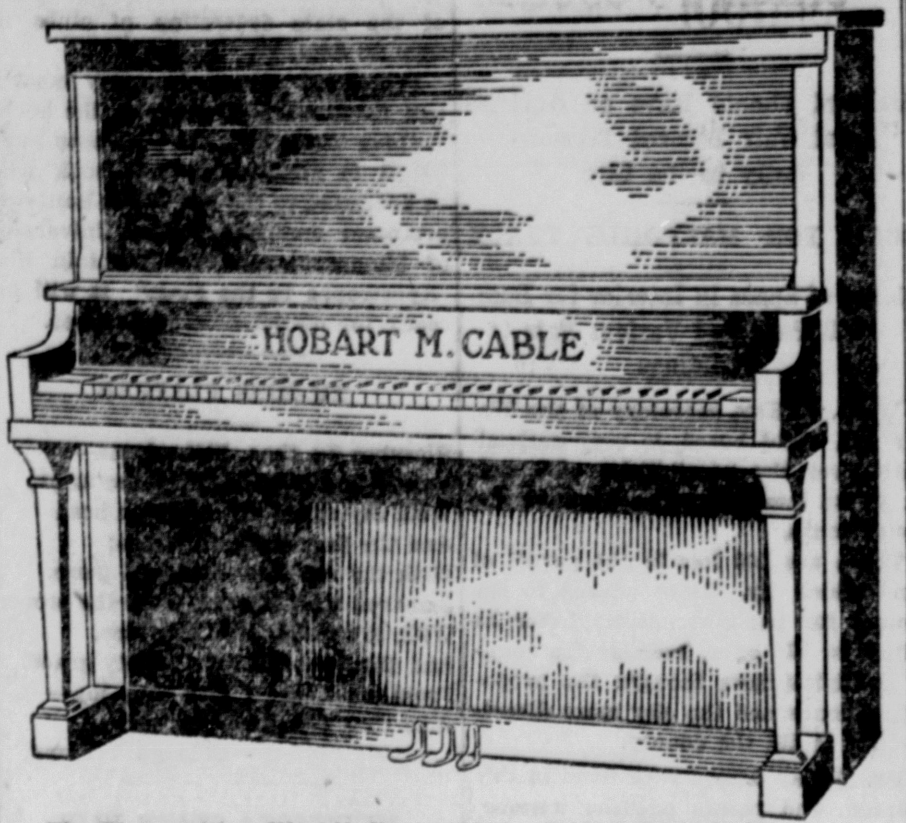

Boring holes in stumps and filling them with sawdust or something else to hasten decay is a waste of time according to the foresters of the State Agricultural college at Ithaca, N. Y. The holes do give added surface for nature's destructive agents to work on, but only digging, chopping, burning, or blowing out will quickly dispose of stumps that can't wait for the slow process of decay.

POTATO GRADING SCHOOL IN CITY

Agricultural Extension Division of
University of Minnesota Coop-
erating with State

IN CITY ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 25

Extension Division Expects to Co-
operate with County Agents in Campaign of Education

By proper grading, sacking,
and loading is the only way money can be made in potatoes this
year.

The Agricultural Extension Division of the University of Minnesota
is cooperating with the State Department of Agriculture to put on the
following series of meetings:

Eight one day grading schools to
be held as follows: Duluth, August
22nd; Grand Rapids, August 23rd;
Bemidji, August 24th; Brainerd, August 25th.

A second group of meetings will be
held on the same dates as follows:
Thief River Falls, August 22nd; Ada,
August 23rd; Detroit, August 24th;
Long Prairie, August 25th.

Following these meetings, the Extension Division expects to carry on
with the county agents of the various counties a campaign of education
reaching to the local shipper and the
grower during the month of September.

Hugh J. Hughes, director of markets, department of agriculture, said,
"We are assured of the cooperation
of the agriculture press of the state
of the farm bureau federation, of
the wholesale trade, and we especially desire the cooperation of the country press."

August Crop of Potatoes

The August crop report of the U.
S. Department of Agriculture indicates a potato production of 440-
000,000 bushels, which is more than 80,000,000 bushels in excess of last
year's crop.

The crop of 1921 was marketed
at a fair price and may represent
what the consuming public will
handle at a margin of profit to the
grower and shipper. The crop this year is so greatly in excess of the
probable requirements that a serious
break in the market seems inevitable
unless decisive measures are taken to
stop the present movement of inferior stuff toward the markets. Every state in the union, Maine alone
with its 12,000,000 bushels deficit
excepted, shows more potatoes than
last year. Of the states near at
hand Michigan indicates an excess
over last year of 9,000,000 bushels,
Wisconsin 17,000,000, Minnesota 12-
000,000, North Dakota 9,000,000,
South Dakota 5,000,000, Colorado
6,800,000, Idaho 4,000,000 and Nebraska 2,000,000.

The increase in the eastern pota-
to growing territory offsets the Maine deficit of 12,000,000. In the
consuming territory, Ohio, Indiana,
Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky and Alabama, each show large increases. In
our immediate sales territory, these
increases over last year's production amount to 19,000,000 bushels
while the eastern production in growing territory makes the total excess
81,000,000 bushels, not accounting
for 24 states that show small mar-
gins of increase in production.

In the face of this situation, the
state department of agriculture feels
that these facts should be known to
the growers and shippers within the
state, and that every means possible
should be taken to load and ship only
the best of the crop. Cars that are loaded field run and consigned under
these conditions stand a good chance
of lying unsold on the tracks, while
cars that are graded good U. S. No. 1
will hold their own in the markets.

Marketing a Serious Problem

The potato situation in this section of the state is fast becoming
very serious as the following letter
to County Agent E. G. Roth, indicates. The letter is from the University of Minnesota, department of agriculture, and signed by F. W.
Peck, agricultural extension direct-
or.

"Dear Mr. Roth: The marketing
of the potato crop this fall is prob-
ing to present a most serious problem and one in which I think we should
be of as much assistance as possible.
The supply is such as to mean a
ruinous price for anything but the
best graded potatoes and it may be a
question as to what price will be obtained for even those that are well
graded.

The car situation and the fact that
most of the potatoes will have to be
sold on the consignment basis this
year indicates that if any large portion of the crop is thrown on the
markets this fall there will be absolutely no sale whatever for them.
With those facts in mind it has been proposed that it will be worth

while to start a campaign for grad-
ing, storing and shipping potatoes.
It has been suggested that one day
grading schools be held at convenient
points for county agents, managers
of shipping associations, potato dealers and anyone else interested in the
project. The following tentative
schedule has been proposed, dependent upon whether it will meet with
your approval:

At Duluth August 22nd, Grand
Rapids August 23rd, Bemidji August
24th, and Brainerd, August 25th.

Mr. Hughes of the state department of agriculture and Mr. Rose
our state extension specialist will
present the work at these schools in
your territory. At the Duluth
school we would ask Mr. Neubauer
of North St. Louis county and Ad-
rich of Carlton county to attend at
the given date. At Grand Rapids
Mr. Frick would be the one county
agent with such people as he might
interest in the meeting. At Bemidji
we are asking Mr. O'Banion of Hubbard county and Mr. Lund of Clear-
water county to attend that meeting.
At Brainerd we are suggesting Mr.
Hammargren of Milaca county and
A. W. Jacob of Aitkin county to attend."

The importance of these one day
grading schools cannot be overesti-
mated. Mr. Roth has made all arrangements to hold the school on Friday, August 25th as per the above
schedule. The meeting will be held in the court house in Brainerd beginning at 1:30 p. m.

It is requested that all people interested in the marketing of potatoes
attend this school. The county agent
has sent out letters urging farmers,
dealers and potato associations to be
present.

LARGE GATHERING HEARS MR. HENNING

Head of Federated Chop Crafts Addresses the Public at Gregory Park Friday Evening

2,000 PEOPLE HEARD HIM SPEAK

He Has Been in Close Touch on the Strike Situation and Reviewed
Events Leading to Crisis

The largest gathering of its kind
since the strike started met in Gregory park Friday evening to hear R.
A. Henning, head of the federated shop crafts, speak on the labor question. It was estimated that fully two thousand Brainerd citizens were
in attendance.

Mr. Henning has been in close touch with the strike situation, and
reviewed in his speech the events
leading up to the present crisis. He gave the shopmen's side of controversy in detail, going into the subject more exhaustively than other speakers have before him.

A parade of striking shopmen, led by the Brainerd band, preceded the program at the park. This parade
was longer than any previous demonstration of its kind this summer.
Mr. Henning is a former Brainerd
resident, and at one time mayor of the city.

In his talk he complimented the attitude of the local press in this strike, and thanked them for the space that had been given the strikers in the Brainerd papers.

Mr. Henning was taken to Staples
Saturday morning by automobile,
where he speaks in the forenoon, and
from that city he goes to Crook-ston for an evening meeting. An informal reception was held last evening for him at the Trades & Labor hall.

CIRCUS DAY DRAWS CROWDS TO CITY

Pink Lemonade and Peanuts, Bands
and Elephants, Lions and Tigers, Everything

TWO PERFORMANCES GIVEN

Howe's Great London Circus and VanAmberg's Animals at Grounds
Near Gas Plant

Today is the day and the Howe
Great London circus and Van Am-
berg's animals are Johnny-on-the-spot,
the spot being the site adjoining the
tourist camping grounds near the gas
plant. The first performance began to a crowded tent at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the second performance will start at 8 this evening, doors opening

at 7 and the show is one worth allowing the small boys to take the larger boys to.

First there was a parade this morning and the two large fat men stood on the corner with two small pop-eyed
boys, and thrilled as the procession
passed—just as in the days of the great Van Amberg, so long, long ago.
There were four real bands, two white,
one colored, one clown, and the way
they pounded out the noise—Oh, Boy!

And then there was the callopie with
its foot-toot - toot - tootie - tootie-
toot, bringing back memory of childhood's pop-eyed days. How tempus
does fugit to be sure!

And the cowboy ladies on horseback, with cowboys all the way from Montana, and Roman riders, ladies
riding with ribbons around their forehead and everything. Open dens of tigers, lions, pumas, bear, leopards,
and trainers sitting right in the dens
looking just as though nothing had happened.

The show is an animal one, with human performers intermixed. There are three rings and two steel arenas,

which means places where the animals come out to perform. There are side shows galore and under the main
tent the great spectacular story of "Cinderella in Jungletand" is the opening number, and some opener the two small boys told the two fat men, while Count Petrow, formerly of the Russian
ballet, directed the dancing and singing and everything. It is a pleasing and spectacular feature and a show
in itself. Next comes the trained animals in bewildering array. Jules Jacquet, former French blue devil,
with his 12 forest-bred, man-killing lions; Miss Grace Bartlett, America's youngest and prettiest lady elephant
trainer; Mlle. La Nova with a mixed group of wild and domestic animals;
Mlle. Maikenstorf, with pumas, panthers and leopards. Captain Jack Cas-teel and his array of blue ribbon winner horses, featuring Miss Katherine Thompson and her $10,000 champion hind foot horse, Golden Gate. And those are only a part of it all, the 29

clowns and 20 other acts keeping things
moving all the time, and when the two
fat men and the two small boys went out of the tent regretfully at the end of a perfect day, a little girl with a short skirt and pig-tail hair and a little boy with a peanut in his mouth
stood up in front of the Jumbo elephant of them all and the little girl
remarked with awe—"Gee, Whiz!"

It's great stuff to be a small boy and go to a circus with two fat men—or even to crawl under the tent with an added thrill—and several thousand
small persons who met the incoming
four trains of animals and performers this morning at 4 o'clock, watched the parade, heard the bands, and the callopies, and fed peanuts to the elephants and made faces at the monkeys
and sat through two hours of animals'
performance thrill, tonight will retire
to bed tired beyond belief and satisfied beyond words.

The Howe circus is an animal one
on the order of the Barnes circus, and instructive, entertaining and a well
worth while to old and young without distinction.

TABLE MADE FROM 3,000 PIECES WOOD

Built by Andrew F. Engstrom, Dead
Some Years, and now Owned by Matt Lynch of Gull River

WONDERFUL WORKMANSHIP

Exhibits Writing in Four Languages
English Swedish, Latin and German

An oddity in the line of tables is
on display at the McCaffrey paint
shop on South Sixth street. The table
is made of inlaid pieces of wood, estimated at about three thousand in number, although no one has had the time or inclination to try to count
them.

It was made by Andrew F. Engstrom, who has been dead for a number of years. It is now owned by Matt Lynch of Gull River. Engstrom
also made a similar one for another friend.

The table is about three by four feet in size, the woods used are thought to be pine and cedar inlaid
in alternate strips about an inch wide. Into these strips are driven small pegs in formations to spell
words and to make weird caricatures.

Many sayings are thus written on the top and on the base across the bottom, the writing being in four different languages, English, Swedish, Latin and German. Large clock dials are inlaid on the ends
and the maker's name and date of birth across the center of the top.

The table is being refinished by F. H. McCaffrey, and is exciting the curiosity of many, and is expected to see
it. It should be exhibited at the County Fair at Pequot next month.

POTATO GRADING SCHOOL IN CITY

Agricultural Extension Division of
University of Minnesota Coop-
erating with State

IN CITY ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 25

Extension Division Expects to Co-
operate with County Agents in
Campaign of Education

By proper grading, sacking,
and loading is the only way money can be made in potatoes this
year.

The Agricultural Extension Division of the University of Minnesota
is cooperating with the State Department of Agriculture to put on the
following series of meetings:

Eight one day grading schools to
be held as follows: Duluth, August
22nd; Grand Rapids, August 23rd;
Bemidji, August 24th; Brainerd, August 25th.

A second group of meetings will be
held on the same dates as follows:
Thief River Falls, August 22nd; Ada,
August 23rd; Detroit, August 24th;
Long Prairie, August 25th.

Following these meetings, the Ex-
tension Division expects to carry on
with the county agents of the various counties a campaign of education
reaching to the local shipper and the
grower during the month of September.

Hugh J. Hughes, director of mar-
kets, department of agriculture, said,
"We are assured of the cooperation
of the agriculture press of the state
of the farm bureau federation, of
the wholesale trade, and we especially desire the cooperation of the coun-
try press."

August Crop of Potatoes
The August crop report of the U.
S. Department of Agriculture indi-
cates a potato production of 440,-
000,000 bushels, which is more than 80,000,000 bushels in excess of last
year's crop.

The crop of 1921 was marketed
at a fair price and may represent
what the consuming public will
handle at a margin of profit to the
grower and shipper. The crop this
year is so greatly in excess of the
probable requirements that a serious
break in the market seems inevitable
unless decisive measures are taken to
stop the present movement of inferior stuff toward the markets. Every state in the union, Maine alone
with its 12,000,000 bushels deficit
excepted, shows more potatoes than
last year. Of the states near at
hand Michigan indicates an excess
over last year of 9,000,000 bushels,
Wisconsin 17,000,000, Minnesota 12,-
000,000, North Dakota 9,000,000,
South Dakota 5,000,000, Colorado
6,800,000, Idaho 4,000,000 and Nebraska 2,000,000.

The increase in the eastern pota-
to growing territory offsets the Maine deficit of 12,000,000. In the
consuming territory, Ohio, Indiana,
Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky and Alabama, each show large increases. In
our immediate sales territory, these
increases over last year's produc-
tion amount to 19,000,000 bushels
while the eastern production in grow-
ing territory makes the total excess
$1,000,000 bushels, not accounting
for 24 states that show small mar-
gins of increase in production.

In the face of this situation, the
state department of agriculture feels
that these facts should be known to
the growers and shippers within the
state, and that every means possible
should be taken to load and ship only
the best of the crop. Cars that are
loaded field run and consigned under
these conditions stand a good chance
of lying unsold on the tracks, while
cars that are graded good U. S. No. 1
will hold their own in the markets.

Marketing a Serious Problem

The potato situation in this section of the state is fast becoming
very serious as the following letter
to County Agent E. G. Roth, indi-
cates. The letter is from the University of Minnesota, department of
agriculture, and signed by F. W.
Peck, agricultural extension direct-
or.

"Dear Mr. Roth: The marketing
of the potato crop this fall is going
to present a most serious problem
and one in which I think we should
be of as much assistance as possible.
The supply is such as to mean a
ruinous price for anything but the
best graded potatoes and it may be a
question as to what price will be obtained for even those that are well
graded.

The car situation and the fact that
sold on the consignment basis this
year indicates that if any large por-
tion of the crop is thrown on the
markets this fall there will be absolutely no sale whatever for them.
With these facts in mind it has been proposed that it will be worth

while to start a campaign for grad-
ing, storing and shipping potatoes.
It has been suggested that one day
grading schools be held at convenient
points for county agents, managers
of shipping associations, potato deal-
ers and anyone else interested in the
project. The following tentative
schedule has been proposed, depend-
ent upon whether it will meet with
your approval:

At Duluth August 22nd, Grand
Rapids August 23rd, Bemidji August
24th, and Brainerd, August 25th.

Mr. Hughes of the state department of agriculture and Mr. Rose
our state extension specialist will
present the work at these schools in
your territory. At the Duluth
school we would ask Mr. Neubauer
of North St. Louis county and Ald-
rich of Carlton county to attend at
the given date. At Grand Rapids
Mr. Frick would be the one county
agent with such people as he might
interest in the meeting. At Bemidji
we are asking Mr. O'Banion of Hub-
bard county and Mr. Lund of Clear-
water county to attend that meeting.
At Brainerd we are suggesting Mr.
Hammargren of Milaca county and
A. W. Jacob of Aitkin county to attend."

The importance of these one day
grading schools cannot be overesti-
mated. Mr. Roth has made all arrangements to hold the school on Friday, August 25th as per the above
schedule. The meeting will be held
in the court house in Brainerd beginning at 1:30 p. m.

It is requested that all people interested in the marketing of potatoes
attend this school. The county agent
has sent out letters urging farmers,
dealers and potato associations to be
present.

OWNERS CAN STOP PENNANT SALES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 19.—Baseball is rather generally aroused over the strange hold that money is getting on the major league sport.

Pennant buying ought to be stopped. As long as there are piles of coin in the New York offices and as long as there are club owners of the Frazee type, the only way to stop it is through legal channels.

If legislation against mid-season selling isn't enacted this winter, the poorer club owners will have no complaint coming next year as they should have thirteen out of sixteen votes to put through what they might decide to be the proper remedy.

Considering the fact that money is not a new born menace of baseball and that it should have been nipped in its infancy, the doubt arises that the club owners are sincere in their loud voiced protests. One can't help but get the idea that they don't want to lose the chance to make big sales.

Those of the club owners who have nothing to market this season can't be sure that they will not have a player to bring down big coin on the block next year.

Most of the big league managers favor an amendment to the present rule moving the time limit for sales back from July 31 to June 30, or earlier.

Branch Rickey and Charles Ebbetts say they would support a rule prohibiting all sales after the start of the pennant race. Bill McKelchie, new pilot of the Pirates, thinks that new names should be added to the club rosters only by way of the minors.

The opinion, expressed for public consumption, among the other owners and managers outside of New York and Boston, is that the rule ought to be changed.

They can change it if they wish!

The real reason for the reckless expenditure of cash by the New York clubs is not apparent on the surface. It is the result of rivalry between the Giants and the Yanks in which both clubs are trying to get the best drawing card. The Yanks are spending the most money and they are getting the big patronage.

Rather nice bunch of boys, France has on her Davis Cup team which is now playing in the United States.

Andre Gobert, veteran player of the team, wears the Legion of Honor medal, the Croix de Guerre with six citations and the English military cross. He served in the artillery and aviation.

Jean Borotra, twenty-two, had two years in the artillery under the hot going and came out with the Croix de Guerre and three citations.

Henri Cochet, twenty-one, didn't get to the front because he was too young, but he is doing "his hitch" now in the artillery.

Alan Muir, former American, who has lived in Paris for thirty years, is the manager of the team. He is a Legion of Honor man and held the rank of captain in the British, French and American armies.

In Cochet and Borotra, France has two young players who are going to be heard from in a few years. Their game is good now, but they lack the balance that comes only through the experience of hard competition.

BUSH WINNING TWO DAYS IN SUCCESSION

New York, Aug. 19.—Bush, who pitched eight innings Thursday and won his game, helped land another for the Yanks when he relieved Jones the next day.

The New York Americans went into a tie with St. Louis for the American league lead, defeating Chicago in a 10-inning game, 8 to 7, while Philadelphia was defeating the Browns. Ruth, first man up in the tenth inning, knocked Davenport's first pitched ball to rightfield stands for his twenty-third homer, winning the game. Ruth also hit a triple and single and drove in or scored five runs. Hoyt, who started pitching for New York, was obliged to leave the game when he tore off a fingernail.

Score—R. H. E.
Chicago 2 0 0 0 2 0 3 0 0—7 8 0
N. York 2 0 0 0 3 2 0 0 1—8 9 2
Batteries—Blankenship, Davenport and Schalk; Hoyt, Jones, Bush and Schang.

Minnesota State Fair

St. Paul, Aug. 19.—The Minnesota state fair grounds has been put in condition and exhibitors are already preparing for the opening, Sept. 2.

While traffic conditions and uncertainties facing manufacturers due to the rail and coal strikes are expected to have some effect on the fair, officials declared the program and exhibits will be far more attractive than last year.

No exhibitors have cancelled their contracts, according to fair officials and it is believed the fair will be just as successful as last year—the best on record.

Vice President Calvin Coolidge will attend the fair on Sept. 6 and will deliver an address.

Welcome Disabled Veterans

Hibbing, Aug. 19.—Civic and patriotic organizations of Hibbing united in welcoming the disabled war veterans of the state who opened their annual state convention here.

Rehabilitation and re-education of the veterans were the principal topics discussed at the sessions. The meet closed Saturday night with a mammoth parade of the vets.

Superior, Wis., Aug. 19.—The Superior policemen's ball team met the guardians of the law from St. Paul here. The St. Paul team is up here fresh from their victory over the Duluth police in a recent game in St. Paul.

Duluth, Aug. 19.—Police baseballers of this city will attempt to avenge their recent defeat in St. Paul when they meet their conquerors here this afternoon. The games are played between the cops of St. Paul and Duluth annually.

"CHRISTY" COMES HOME

Baseball fans all over the country will be glad to know that Christy Mathewson is well enough to motor down from Saranac, in the Adirondacs to his old home in Factoryville, Pa. He is only taking a short visit though and will then return to the pure mountain air until his sickness has been thoroughly routed. Photo shows his "dad," smiling and happy to once more have his famous son at the old home.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Lyceum

A story straight from the heart of eternal motherhood is "The Grim Comedian," Goldwyn's production of Rita Weiman's first screen story, which shows at the Lyceum theatre for the last time tonight. It will awaken an answering chord in the heart of every person who sees it, man, woman or

child. Phoebe Hunt and Jack Holt have the leading roles.

"Fore!" a novelty slow motion golf reel and the final chapter of "Robinson Crusoe" is on the same program.

Tom Moore in "Beating the Game"

Some people think that all you need to contribute to a "Fresh Air Fund" is fresh air, but Tom Moore, as "Hon-est" Tom Smith in "Beating the Game," his newest Goldwyn picture at the Lyceum theatre, Sunday only, found a way to open the purse strings of a hesitating populace. He also devised a "Trade at Home" scheme that built up a town. For his honesty and earnest efforts, he was elected mayor.

Just one year previous, he was an expert safe cracker and a fugitive from justice.

Lytell in Romance of the Prize Ring

for Metro, will be seen next week as the motion picture feature of the program at the Lyceum theatre on Monday and Tuesday. The new picture, adapted from the screen by Lenore Coffee from a Saturday Evening Post story by J. P. Marquand, deals with a "highbrow" prize fighter who pays court to a society girl, concealing from her a knowledge of his profession because of her caste prejudice against it.

The cast supporting Mr. Lytell includes Virginia Valli, who played opposite him in "A Trip to Paradise," "The Man Who" and "The Idle Rich;" De Witt Jennings, the veteran of the speaking stage, who plays the heroine's father; Otis Harlan, once the principal comedian in the Charles Hoyt farces; Philo McCullough and Max Davidson. The photography is by Arthur Martinelli and the art settings by A. P. Mantz. Joseph Straus was production manager.

Duluth, Aug. 19.—Police baseballers of this city will attempt to avenge their recent defeat in St. Paul when they meet their conquerors here this afternoon. The games are played between the cops of St. Paul and Duluth annually.

"CHRISTY" COMES HOME

Baseball fans all over the country will be glad to know that Christy Mathewson is well enough to motor down from Saranac, in the Adirondacs to his old home in Factoryville, Pa. He is only taking a short visit though and will then return to the pure mountain air until his sickness has been thoroughly routed. Photo shows his "dad," smiling and happy to once more have his famous son at the old home.

AMUSEMENTS

A story straight from the heart of eternal motherhood is "The Grim Comedian," Goldwyn's production of Rita Weiman's first screen story, which shows at the Lyceum theatre for the last time tonight. It will awaken an answering chord in the heart of every person who sees it, man, woman or

child. Phoebe Hunt and Jack Holt have the leading roles.

"Fore!" a novelty slow motion golf reel and the final chapter of "Robinson Crusoe" is on the same program.

Tom Moore in "Beating the Game"

Some people think that all you need to contribute to a "Fresh Air Fund" is fresh air, but Tom Moore, as "Honest" Tom Smith in "Beating the Game," his newest Goldwyn picture at the Lyceum theatre, Sunday only, found a way to open the purse strings of a hesitating populace. He also devised a "Trade at Home" scheme that built up a town. For his honesty and earnest efforts, he was elected mayor. Just one year previous, he was an expert safe cracksman and a fugitive from justice.

Lytell in Romance of the Prize Ring

for Metro, will be seen next week as the motion picture feature of the program at the Lyceum theatre on Monday and Tuesday. The new picture, adapted for the screen by Lenore Coffee from a Saturday Evening Post story by J. P. Marquand, deals with a "highbrow" prize fighter who pays court to a society girl, concealing from her a knowledge of his profession because of her caste prejudice against it.

The cast supporting Mr. Lytell includes Virginia Valli, who played opposite him in "A Trip to Paradise," "The Man Who" and "The Idle Rich." De Witt Jennings, the veteran of the speaking stage, who plays the heroine's father; Otis Harlan, once the principal comedian in the Charles Hoyt farces; Philo McCullough and Max Davidson. The photography is by Arthur Martinelli and the art settings by A. P. Mantz. Joseph Straus was production manager.
